Retention of Data

During the course of our relationship with you, we’ll retain personal data which is necessary to provide services to you. We will take all reasonable steps to keep your personal data up to date throughout our relationship. Additionally, we are subject to regulatory requirements requiring us to retain your data for a specified minimum period, which is generally five years from the date you cease being our customer. This minimum period is the period during which we have a legal obligation to retain your records. Additionally, we reserve the right to retain data for a longer period where we believe it is in our legitimate interests to do so. In any case, we will not keep your personal data for longer than seven years after our relationship with you has ended.

You have the right to request deletion of your personal data. We’ll comply with this request, subject to the restrictions of our regulatory obligations and legitimate interests as noted above.

We maintain books and records for a 5-year period upon closing of any Fund. Altera is subject to extensive recordkeeping requirements. The requirements are driven by laws and regulations based on the jurisdictions in which we are located and the regulated businesses we operate. In addition to delineating the types of records that must be maintained, the various regulations also address the periods of time for which they must be kept and, in some cases, establish specific protocols for how, and in what form, those records may be maintained.

It is Altera’s policy to maintain books and records for periods of time sufficient to meet its needs in accordance with operational, contractual, legal, regulatory, tax, audit and/or historical requirements, with respect to the purposes for which the personal data are obtained and processed.

Information for New Jersey Clients

The New Jersey Bureau of Securities (“Bureau”), an arm of the Office of the New Jersey Attorney General, is charged with protecting investors from investment fraud, and regulating the securities industry in New Jersey.

In addition to bringing investigative and enforcement actions against firms or individuals who violate the New Jersey Uniform Securities Law and regulations thereunder, the Bureau registers securities offered or sold in New Jersey and oversees the firms and individuals selling securities or providing investment advice to or from New Jersey.

Investors can contact the Bureau to research the professional background of current and former registered broker-dealers, investment advisers, agents, and investment adviser representatives. To research a financial professional, contact the Bureau via phone at 1-866-I-Invest (within New Jersey) or at 973-504-3600 (both within and outside New Jersey) or via email at njbos@lps.state.nj.us.

Investors can also file complaints with the Bureau against individuals and firms selling securities or offering investment advice, as well as companies issuing securities investments directly.

To file a complaint or learn more about the Bureau, visit the Bureau’s website at www.NJSecurities.gov.
